- 1907 -

BIRD BULLETIN NO. 3.

The lateness of the spring of 1907 suggested by the late arrival of the migratory birds has been maintained by exceptionally cool weather during the months of April and May. Apple trees were about a week behind their average time of blossoming. (May 12).

The following birds have been added to the previous lists: -

March	30,	Fox Sparrow; two near Auburn; obs. Mr. Watterson
March	31,	House Wren; Auburn; obs. do.
April	2,	Brown Thrasher do do.
April	15.	Sora Rail; found hiding (,) under an inverted box, Hawthorne St; Obs. Mr. Watterson.
April	18.	Cedar Waxwing; obs. Professor Hulme.
April	25.	Louisiana Water Thrush; obs. Dr. Hulme.
"	"	White Crowned Sparrow " "
"	26	Hermit Thrush, Wade Park; " "
"	27	Brown Thrasher, C. Heights; " "
"	30	Barn Swallow, Shaker Ponds; " "
May	1	Wilson's Snipe; Warrensville; brought alive to Laboratory with broken wing by Mr. Moffat. Cleveland Heights, May 9; obs. Dr. Hulme.
"	6	Chimney Swifts, seen over main building Adelbert College; Obs. Mr. Lowe. Cleveland Hts; Obs. Dr. Hulme.
"	7	Catbird; Cleveland Heights. Obs. Dr. Hulme.
"	"	Red Headed Woodpecker " "
May	7	Redstart (warbler). Obs. Dr. Hulme.
"	7	Black Throated Blue Warbler Dr. Hulme.
"	7	Chestnut Sided Warbler " "
"	7	Black and White Warbler " "
"	7	Indigo Bird " "

May	9	Bobolink, Obs. Dr. Hulme
"	10	Baltimore Oriole; "
"	12	Orchard Oriole; Hudson, Ohio; Obs. Dr. F.C. Waite, Cleveland Heights, May, 17
"	12	Maryland Yellowthroat (warbler); Cleveland Heights.
"	12	Scarlet Tanager; Hudson, Ohio; Obs. Dr. Waite.
"	"	Kingbird; Obs. Dr. Hulme.
"	13	Olive Backed Thrush brought alive to the laboratory by Mr. Quass; was temporarily disabled by flying against laboratory window.
"	18	Warbling Vireo; Obs. Dr. Hulme.
"	19	Rose Breasted Grosbeak; "
"	20	Wood Pewee; "
"	20	Red Breasted Nuthatch, killed by flying against laboratory windows.

- NESTS -

May	5	Young Robins; Obs. Mr. Watterson.
"	7	Robins had nest of three young two days old and one egg in elm in front of Biological Laboratory; young killed, thrown out of nest and carried off by a crow early in morning of May 8 or 9; obs. Mr. Riser and Mrs. Mitchell.
"	5	(about) Nest of Mourning Dove; Obs. Dr. Hulme

Note. Please report all rare finds of nests at the laboratory, but be careful not to injure the eggs or frighten the birds.

F.H.H.

May 22, 1907